BlackBerry Access for Windows version 2.0.1.26 and BlackBerry Work for Windows version 2.0.1.328

What's new in BlackBerry Access for Windows and BlackBerry Work for Windows

- Users can now select how many email messages to synchronize from their mail server to BlackBerry Access. The following options are now available:
 - Mail 1 Day back
 - Mail 3 Days back
 - Mail 1 Week back
 - Mail 2 Weeks back
 - Mail 1 Month back
 - No Sync Limit
- If a user changes the calendar view from the default week view, the changed calendar view is displayed after the user closes the calendar and then reopens it.
- Users can now preview and download .msg and .eml attachments from the Email or Contacts apps.
- Users can now search for messages on their mail servers from BlackBerry Work.
- The following enhancements have been made to calendar response feature:
 - Users can now add custom responses to calendar invitations.
 - Users can now choose to not send an email message with their response to a meeting organizer
 - Users can now respond to meeting invitations with a pre-defined response
- Users can now store Awingu credentials and restore their sessions automatically. A new Enable Awingu Extension app setting has been added. Once enabled, you can add your organization's Awingu URL and domain.
- Microsoft Office documents are now automatically opened after they have been downloaded.
- A new Enable Upgrade Notification policy has been added that allows you to notify users when an upgrade is available. You can specify a message, the download URL, the version that users should be upgrading to. After this has been configured, users will receive a popup notification that a new version is available for download.
